Ultimate Women to Tackle Metro's S.W.A.T. Course

The Injured Police Officers' Fund (IPOF) is one of the sponsors of a new reality show called Ultimate Women Challenge. The program focuses on 16 female mixed martial arts fighters. The show is about empowerment and has an emphasis on education and community service.

On Saturday, September 4th, contestants will compete on Metro's S.W.A.T. obstacle course, with Metro officers present to assist. The course is located at 7600 E. Carey (at the end of E. Carey on Sunrise Mountain) . The competition will take place first thing in the morning. Gates to the facility will open at 6:00 a.m. for the media and SWAT will direct the media reference parking.

Certain episodes of the Ultimate Women Challenge are dedicated to a specific social cause or charity. These causes will be incorporated into the challenges in which the women participate. The IPOF is one of the charities that will benefit from the show's success.

Ultimate Women Challenge will air September 25, 2010. It is sponsored by Skinfly Energy and the IPOF.

The IPOF is a local non-profit organization dedicated to helping the families of police officers who have been injured or killed in the line of duty.

For more information contact Minddie Lloyd with the IPOF at 380-2840.
